HEMPEL ADDS DOLEMAN TO EXECUTIVE TEAM

Maple Grove, MN – Thursday, June 15, 2006 – Hempel Properties recently added Valerie Doleman to their Minneapolis office. Doleman will serve as the development firm's vice president of marketing overseeing the marketing communications planning and strategy for the firm.

Hempel currently has over 750,000 square feet under development and has recently announced two new retail developments in Clinton, New Jersey as well as Vacaville, California. Hempel also has plans to develop a hotel/condominium tower in downtown Minneapolis, The Hotel Minneapolis and Residences, in the Midland Bank Building on the corner of 4th Street and Second Avenue.

Doleman brings over ten years of real estate marketing experience to Hempel Properties. Prior to joining the firm, she served as director of consulting services for a real estate communications consulting firm where she developed marketing communications plans for tenant in common sponsors (TIC), brokerage firms, title companies, investment groups, architectural firms and development companies. She is also the former marketing director for a Minneapolis-based commercial real estate research and brokerage firm.

Doleman is a member of Minnesota Commercial Real Estate Women (MNCREW) and the National Crew Network (CREW). She recently received the Network Story of the Year award from MNCREW.
